General Comment

Who do you think you are to dictate control over the way I spend my money. This is money I earned, saved, invested, budgeted and will share with those I choose. I do not want your assistance involved in my finances in any way.

You and your socialist Marxist views want to control everything in what was once Free America. Look at what's stamped on the first coins of the United States "Mind Your Business". Well I follow that advice and you should as well. Get out of our lives and let us succeed or fail on our own. That's the country we Americans want.

Government has a lousy track record when it sticks its nose in anything other than what it is charged to do. Controlling our monetary lives is not under your realm so butt out.
